

Love Code

COLLECTION
Water Radiators

Imagine the Love code as a line. The whole universe formed within a single scratch. Each intersection, each line touch leads to a new figure, new story, and new world. This seamless and endless line is made of copper pipe, providing a continuous flow of water and delivering the heat. Mixing different materials and different artisan techniques for surface treatments emphasizes the natural beauty of the materials, with the main accent of copper. Each piece of this collection will be different and unique.

The excitement and happiness of owning a unique piece of art, dominating with a strong statement for the whole interior and warming the space.
